ArsTeXnica: Italian journal of TeX, LaTeX and digital typography

ArsTeXnica is the GuIT journal for TeX users and digital typography-oriented people. It is a half-yearly journal (April and October issues). Odd issues (April) contain those papers not intended to be presented during the GuITmeeting, while even issues (October) contain the proceedings of the GuITmeeting.

It is issued as a paper journal for GuIT members and as a Pdf journal, immediately available to GuITmembers and, after six months, to everybody.

Editorial board

Francesco Biccari (editor-in-chief)

Massimiliano Dominici, Silvia Maschio, Gianluca Pignalberi (editorial board coordinators)

Riccardo Campana, Massimo Caschili, Gustavo Cevolani, Andrea Fedeli, Carlo Marmo, Federica Panarotto, Antonello Pilu, Ottavio Rizzo, Gianpaolo Ruocco, Emmanuele Somma, Enrico Spinielli, Emiliano Vavassori

Scientific Committee

Renato Battistin (Istituto Italiano per la Certificazione dei Prodotti Ottici, Longarone (Belluno))
Claudio Beccari (Dip. di Elettronica e Telecomunicazioni, Politecnico di Torino)
Francesco Biccari (Dip. di Fisica e Astronomia, Università di Firenze)
Agostino De Marco (Dip. di Ingegneria Industriale, Università di Napoli Federico II)
Roberto Giacomelli (Libero professionaista)
Tommaso Gordini (Liceo Statale “Alvise Cornaro”, Padova)
Enrico Gregorio (Dip. di Informatica, Università di Verona)
Guido Milanese (Dip. di Scienze Linguistiche e Letterature Straniere, Università Cattolica del Sacro Cuore di Milano)

Ivan Valbusa (Dip. di Culture e Civiltà, Università di Verona)

Awards

ArsTeXnica is classified as a scientific journal (ANVUR) in the following not bibliometric fields: 10 (Scienze dell'antichità, filologico-letterarie e storico-artistiche / Antiquities, philology, literary studies, art history) and 11 (Scienze storiche, filosofiche, pedagogiche e psicologiche / History, philosophy, education sciences). The classification in both fields was recognized on 7 April 2020 and is valid for numbers published from 2016 onwards.

Code of ethics

In the evaluation process of the articles, the journal follows a code of ethics, which can be consulted at this address.